

Guildford Astronomical Society

Currently Recommended Guide Cameras

Question:

What autoguider should I use?

Reply:

At the time of writing, the standout autoguider remains the Starlight Xpress Lodestar X2. I consulted my friend Ian King of iankingimaging on this enquiry - Ian's imaging expertise and familiarity with the qualities of available equipment are second to none. He agreed that the Lodestar is still the best and suggested the Altair GPCAM as a decent lower cost alternative.

John Evans FRAS
GAS Ask an Astronomer

June 2016